

BENJAMIN GROSSER

bengrosser.com

ARTIST STATEMENT

I am interested in the unseen ways that technologies change our experience of the world. I use these same technologies as a primary medium to create works that both reveal and examine those changes. Does computer-mediated vision change how we see without computers? Do surveillance technologies modify the way we speak in public? Has "reality" media altered non-mediated reality? Are helpful 'intelligent' systems evolving to make decisions for their own needs instead of ours? My works use interaction to construct an experience that encourages personal consideration of these kinds of questions.